ABOUT ME

Greetings, and thank you for taking a moment to review my CV. My career has been grounded in the maritime industry, where I have gained 15 years of experience serving on cruise and merchant ships. While I have a robust background in this field, I have developed a passion for communication over the years. As such, I have held positions as a Training Officer and Nautical Instructor, both at sea and on land, respectively. I firmly believe that positive communication is vital in motivating teams and creating a productive, relaxed atmosphere. Going forward, I am committed to continuing my personal and professional growth, seeking out new ways to add value to others' people lives and careers.
